BEECHER ANSWERS SOME QUESTIONS.--The Rev Henry Ward Beecher has always had the reputation of being extremely unconventional. A correspondent of the New York Ledger writes to that paper to ascertain the truth or fallacy of the many sayings and doings attributed to Mr Beecher. The reverend gentleman answered the communication by saying he never said that there was a "hell fired difference between his doctrine and that of a certain other clergyman;" that he is not a card player--in fact that he does not know one card from another; and that he is not the originator of the slang phrase, "How is that for high?" He further says that he does not write out his sermons, but that mere outlines are made. In concluding his letter Mr Beecher says: "I do not promise to answer all questions or any in future, being in the mood I have felt, fly at these croaking birds as one returning from a hunt would fire at a crow to clean out his gun barrels."

Interior California.

SAN DIEGO, May 19.--Word was brought to the city last night of a horrible murder committed near San Dieguito about 20 miles from here. A neighbor passing and noticing no one stirring about the premises, investigated and found a man lying near the door, his head beaten evidently with a piece of scantling and his wife lying on the floor near the stove, her head split open with an ax. An infant girl a few months old was lying in the cradle also killed with an ax. A boy about nine years who had crawled under a bed to hide was struck by an ax while there, splitting his head. Two children, boy 7 and girl 5 years old, were lying on the bed, their heads split open evidently with the same instrument which has been found. The blood being bright red gives reason to believe that the murder was committed Friday or Saturday. The man was Jno. Overend, a native of Ireland, 55 years, quiet and respected highly. He was married one year ago to Mrs Mary Horsfeld, aged 30. The children were Mrs Horsfeld's by her former husband. Overend was last seen in San Diego May 2d, when he sold his wool to W. W. Stewart, of this city, and then purchased a bill of goods of Gordon & Hasard of this city. Father U. Miguel Aguirre and others being notified of the murder being near the scene went to examine the premises and found that the massacre had evidently been committed about dark, as all the supper dishes were still standing on the tables. All the victims were in their day clothes. They found everything turned upside down--the goods purchased from Gordon & Hasard, a Henry rifle, $62 in money, certificate of deposit for $1,000, promissory note for $100, evidently unnoticed by the murderers. Not a blanket was to be found in the house. Coroner's jury held an inquest yesterday and to-day and have not yet rendered a verdict. Expect to hear from them this evening. No clue as yet to the murderers.

THE TERRITORIES.

By the Idaho Statesman we see that the ladies of Boise City have turned out en masse with the anticipation of closing up the various saloons in that city.

A billet of wood fell from a building in Walla Walla the other day and six candidates for the Territorial Delegateship came near having broken heads.

The case of the Commissioners of Boise county and Ben T. Davis vs. John Gorman has been dismissed out of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The census of the lower town of Tacoma gives a population of 336 souls. Of this number 176 are men and [illegible] are women over 21 years of age, and 51 are boys and 41 are girls under that age.

Mr Frank Shelton is now in Idaho for the purpose of organizing Granges of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry. Mr Shelton is an indefatigable worker in that line and is doing much good for the Order this side of the mountains.

On last Saturday the down train from Walla Walla to Wallula caught fire from a spark from the locomotive and was totally destroyed. The car was loaded with bacon, all of which was destroyed. In addition about thirty feet of the track was burned. The damage to the bacon amounts to over $800.

J. H. Taylor was accidentally killed in the machinery of the Gold Hill mill near Quartzburg, Idaho Territory, on Tuesday night last about 11 o'clock. The man feeding the batteries saw Taylor a few minutes before when suddenly the machinery stopped, and looking to see what was the matter he found Taylor caught in one of the driving belts so firm that he had caused the stopping of the machinery. He had been wound around and thrown over the wheel and his neck broken and was probably killed instantly without the possibility of giving an alarm. It is supposed he must have slipped or fell in some way stepping from one place to another.

From the Boise Statesman: W. W. Slew[illegible], of Rock Creek on the Overland road writes here under date of the 10th inst. that Joseph McNair camped there last night, the night before with his team loaded with goods for Idaho City and Placerville and started on his road in the morning, and after getting two miles this side met some one on the road driving loose horses which frightened the team, and McNair being on the ground stepped in front of his wagon and took hold of his bridle rein to put on the brake, but in pulling the rope it broke and he fell under the forward wheel, it passing first between his legs and then over his body lengthwise, cutting him nearly in two and killing him instantly.

COINCIDENCES.--The Cincinnati Enquirer says that a gentleman connected with the press of that city celebrated on the 2d of May his birthday, his wife's birthday and his wedding day. It was the twentieth anniversary. When married the joint age of his wife and himself were fifty years. On the last 2d of May the joint ages of his children were fifty years.

Grand Master's Report

[illegible]

And may this portion of the [illegible] faith [illegible] the [illegible] of the past [illegible] for the good and true men of every community within the bounds of our jurisdiction.

Obedient to the requirement of our constitution I [illegible] report to you [illegible] facts [illegible] and I shall embrace the opportunity of making such suggestions as I believe will tend to the prosperity and future welfare of our beneficent Order.

Reviewing the work of the past year, reviewing the whole field from the correspondence had, I think I may truly say that the Order is in a vigorous, healthy and harmonious condition. For the numerical strength of our jurisdiction, see the report of [illegible].

[illegible]

VISITS.

Owing to [illegible] the Grand Lodge [illegible] with the Grand Lodge, I have not [illegible] except at Portland [illegible] within [illegible] without [illegible] and the [illegible].

CORRESPONDENCE.

I estimate that I have received six hundred letters during the year and written fourth hundred, and have devoted at least two hours time a day upon an average the year through, and if this system is to be kept up I can make bold to say that the time is rapidly nearing when there must be some relief devised for your Executive or the office will go a-begging before many years, for our best qualified and more zealous members cannot afford to become Grand Masters under the present regime.

Herewith I submit communications from the Grand Corresponding and Recording Secretary of the Grand Lodge of the United States and from the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, and ask your consideration upon the matters therein contained.

DECISIONS.

During the year I have answered a large number of questions [illegible] but have only [illegible] decisions that I deem of sufficient import [illegible] to submit for your consideration, to wit:

[illegible]

Held that by being expelled a Brother pays the extreme penalty of the law, and that when the Lodge restores a Brother that has been expelled it only places him in the position from which it removed him--that by its own act the Lodge by restoring the Brother makes him a member in good standing. Therefore I hold that the Lodge has no right to charge any fee or fix by By-Law any sum to be paid by expelled brothers upon reinstatement.

APPOINTMENTS.

I have made various appointments for District Deputy Grand Masters where occasion has called for the appointment of such officers.

Upon the [illegible] of August 1873 I received the resignation of Bro. A. I. Stinson, Grand Representative elect, and upon the 30th of August 1873 I appointed Bro. A. Noltner, P. G. of Spencer Butte Lodge No 9, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Bro. Stinson.

PROCLAMATIONS.

I issued a proclamation October 9th 1873 to the Lodges in Washington and Idaho Territories notifying them of the action of the G. L. U. S. and directed them to report to that Grand Body, but subsequently by instruction from Bro. James I. Ridgely, Grand Corresponding Secretary of the G. L. U. S. I did upon December 26th 1873, annul the act of October 9th 1873 and directed the above named Lodges to continue to report to this Grand Lodge until further orders. I call your attention to the action had by the G. L. U. S. upon the subject of jurisdiction in the case of the Lodges in the above named Territories. See pages [illegible] and [illegible] Journal of G. L. U. S. 1873.

DISTRICT DEPUTY GRAND MASTERS.

Herewith I submit the reports of the D. D. G. M.'s and in this connection I desire to say that from the experience of the past year I find that the Brotherhood at large are too much inclined to ignore the D. D. G. M.'s. The officer are appointed upon the recommendation of the P. G.'s representing the Lodges of each District and are supposed to be earnest and active workers in the Order--alive to all interests--willing to travel by day and work at night and to make any sacrifice of time that may be required for the benefit of the Lodges in their Districts. Now taking for my guide the communications received from members of the Order during the year I am compelled to say that the D. D. G. M.'s do not receive that hearty support necessary to encourage them to thus work for the good of the Order. I do not approve of the course taken by too many of the Brothers in this. They will make up a case and [illegible] submit it to the Grand Master for his decision. I hold that all questions should first go to the D. D. G. M. for that officer being upon the ground can certainly tell better what action to take than can a person who is not and perhaps may never be fully acquainted with the facts in the case. At this time I desire to return my sincere and heartfelt thanks to the D. D. G. Masters for their prompt, energetic and kind assistance to me during my administration.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I would recommend that the Grand Secretary be authorized to sell the remaining copies of the printed Proceedings in bound form from 1856 to 1868 inclusive at the sum of $1 per copy; also, that a committee be appointed for the purpose of revising and digesting the laws of the Grand Lodge, believing that it would be for the best interests of the Order to have a Digest for reference. And further that the jurisdiction be redistricted with not less than three Lodges in each District, and that a committee be appointed consisting of one or more P. G.'s from each Lodge, such committee to be known as the District Grand Committee, with powers to hear and determine all cases of grievances and appeals, the committee to report their action to this Grand Lodge at each session, the traveling expenses to and from the place of holding the sessions of the District Grand Committee to be paid by the Lodges to their respective P. G.'s who may attend such sessions. I think this system would prove one of the most valuable adjuncts to our laws in removing burdens both from this Grand Lodge and from the Grand Master.

CONCLUSION.

And now brethren in returning to your guardian care the trust reposed in me, I desire to return to you my sincere thanks for the honor done me, and can say that I have at all times had steadily in view the principles of our Order and have tried to keep our laws intact. If necessary I have not crowned my efforts to the extent desired by all or by this Grand Body, it was and must be attributed to my want of ability and not to my lack of zeal or devotion.

[illegible]

Fraternally submitted,

A. J. MARSHALL, Grand Master.

I shall have to surrender to you this session the trust that has so long been confided to my keeping, and hoping from year to year if I am so situated to be present at each of our annual communications to keep up the social reunion that have been so pleasant in the past.

THE OCHOCO MINES

OCHOCO, May 11, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Having recently returned from the Ochoco gold mines where I spent several days I will give you the result of my observations in that undeveloped gold field. I found about twenty-five men at work in the diggings. Most of their operations have been confined to Uttinger creek or gulch, though one company have been working the hills and dry gulches facing on the Ochoco above the mouth of said creek with fair success. Outside of these localities little is as yet known, as the numerous branches of both the North and South Ochoco have not been prospected. Of the six or eight companies at work only two had cleaned up when I left. Carl & Karken had washed--three men--twelve days and took out $400, allowing the gold to be worth $16 per ounce. This company had washed a dry gulch putting into Uttinger's creek. The company working in the creek had not yet cleaned up. Cranston & Co. had taken out about $1,000 from the hills and gulches above the mouth of Uttinger creek. Each of these companies realized over $5 per day to the hand for all the work done. The camp already contains plenty of everything needed except men--miners. Two stores, a boarding house, meat market, blacksmith shop and a dozen or so cabins constitute the town--no name. Good board can be obtained for $8 a week. Fresh ranch butter 25 cents per pound; fat beef cut to order from the butcher's block 8 cents per pound; eggs 20 cents per dozen. Mining tools, provisions, &c., are plenty and offered at moderate prices.

There are a few practical miners, but most of the men at work are from the ranches in the neighborhood. It is the opinion of these not experienced in mining that the main deposit has not yet been struck. Good wages having been demonstrated to exist, the country will certainly be prospected further, provided people outside of this neighborhood have leisure to do so; there seems to be nobody to spare here to do it.

OBSERVER.

HOW SCHURZ WROTE HIS ORATION ON SUMNER.--The unanimous expression of the Boston press to-day is flattering to Senator Schurz's performance yesterday. The more the orator's work is contemplated the more its excellence appears. The wonder increases as it becomes known that the work of writing was itself a tour de force. When the Senator arrived in Boston Monday night not more than one third of the oration had been committed to manuscript, and from the hour that he reached his rooms at the Revere House until he left them to go to the hall he was almost constantly at work, taking but a few hours sleep. The manuscript was sent to the printer as fast as written, and the only opportunity he had to consult what had been written while composing the remainder was when the proofs were brought to him for correction. It was not completed when the 11 o'clock train on Wednesday morning left for New York, and the conclusion was telegraphed to that city. The last proofs were corrected within an hour of the time he began the delivery. Under the circumstances his animation and freedom of delivery seem marvelous.--Boston dispatch to Chicago Tribune.

Some students fixed up a ghost and placed it on the staircase of a Troy newspaper office the other night and then retired and awaited developments. One of the editors came along and didn't get frightened. He disrobed it, and now wears a fifteen dollar pair of pantaloons, a ten dollar vest, a seven dollar pair of boots, and an eight dollar hat, while one of the students goes about without a vest and another roams around through the least frequented streets wearing a very ancient pair of inexpressibles.

LAMAR'S EULOGY ON SUMNER.--Congressman Lamar's eloquent eulogy on Senator Sumner meets with the general approval of the South. The Richmond Enquirer, while not agreeing in his estimate of the philanthropy and statesmanship of Mr Sumner, says it must admire and must applaud the manly magnanimity, the elevated independence and the truly chivalric ingenuousness with which the gallant Lamar paid his hearty tribute of sincere respect to the memory of a man with whom neither he nor the southern people ever had political sympathy or association. And after this speech the Northern man who says the South is opposed to reconciliation must admit that he denies and defies the facts that confront him. The Wilmington (N. C.) Star says it was generous, courageous and magnanimous, and as such in marked contrast with the action of the Senate Judiciary Committee in refusing to favor the removal of the political disabilities of Admiral Semmes.

WEDNESDAY MORNING MAY 20 1874

CERTAINLY OF COURSE

The other Richard has entered the field at last In other words, Mr W W Thayer has rushed into print to assist the conspiracy between certain Democratic would-be leaders and the ring Republicans, to elect Mr Richard Williams to Congress by Democratic votes Thayer leads off on the Democratic side of the coalition, in a letter from Roseburg to that simon pure Democratic organ, the Portland Bulletin And therefore the Bulletin editorially remarks

As a matter of courtesy, no doubt the OREGONIAN will copy the letter of W W Thayer Esq late law partner of its editor as to the swamp land transaction in which it has tried to connect him and the other partner of that late law firm of Hill Williams & Thayer who is now the Republican candidate for Congress

Indeed we should scarcely feel like declining a request so proper in itself and so delicately made, even if it came from a source less entitled to claim courtesy at our hands than the Bulletin and when taken into consideration the courteous and high toned style of journalism that has always distinguished the management of that very respectable paper, we cannot for a single moment entertain the idea of refusing the small favor it asks at our hands So, without further ado, we present the ponderous document referred to, in all its conclusiveness of argument and magnificence of diction

ROSEBURG, Sunday May 17 1874

Editors Bulletin In glancing over the OREGONIAN of the 16th instant I observe that a question has been raised as to whether or not Richard Williams, the Republican nominee for Congress has ever made an application for the purchase of swamp lands.

In order to prove that such is the fact it is stated in an article in that paper headed "Who Has Lied?—Let the People Answer," that on page 11 of a pamphlet entitled Communication from the Governor, etc under the head of 'Swamp Land Applications," is found the names, occurring together—

	Acres
W W Thayer	100,000
Richard Williams	100,000

And it is sought to be inferred from that circumstance, as we were at the time law partners that Mr Williams was an applicant for a purchase of that character Now I desire to say that I never made any application for the purchase of swamp lands, and that if such an application appears among the papers of any of the departments of State it got there without my solicitation or knowledge Neither do I believe that Mr Williams ever made any such application for I should certainly have known something about it if he had He [illegible] I am informed that he denies ever having made any application of that character and I should want better proof than has yet been furnished before I would disbelieve him I have known Mr Williams intimately for the last twelve years and know that an election to the office for which he is a candidate and a [illegible] title to all the swamp lands in Oregon [illegible] would not induce him to lie And for parties who claim to know Richard Williams [illegible] over such a question is simply [illegible] A more truthful man never lived and the proposition to submit a question regarding Mr Williams veracity upon any question of fact is an insult to the good sense of the people of Oregon who know him The people will answer upon election day, who [illegible] in a voice that will return Mr Williams to Congress by an overwhelming majority [illegible] in this county the stronghold of the independent party, it is predicted that he will have three hundred majority, and there is but one opinion all over the rural districts [illegible] it is as I have indicated I am no special [illegible] for Mr Williams' election but I have some regard for the truth, and feel called upon under the circumstances, to state facts as I believe them to be. W W THAYER.

An analysis of this letter would do justice to its merits as a political, legal or literary production The point, it is true, is invisible to the naked eye, so far as it is intended as evidence that Mr Richard Williams is not an applicant for one hundred thousand acres of swamp lands Mr W W Thayer says that, so far as he is concerned the application was made without his knowledge, and the record shows [illegible] made, and the natural presumption is that the other gentleman who appears to have been associated with him in the transaction, was the active and acting party This explains why Thayer has no personal knowledge as to whether Williams did it or not Williams did not tell [illegible] is his own explanation of the matter Lawyer as Thayer is, wouldn't he make it extremely tropical for an opponent who should attempt to prove his client out of trouble by such a flimsy showing as this?—to dispute the official records by the testimony of a witness who could say no more than that, not having anything to do with the matter, he knew nothing about it Thayer has a keen sense of the ridiculous, and enjoys a good thing as well as the next man, and he must have laughed great guffaws in his sleeve while writing this letter

THE PORTLAND, DALLES AND SALT LAKE RAILWAY BILL

Through the kindness of Senator Kelly we are enabled to present our readers this morning with a copy of the report of the Senate Committee on Railroads, on the bill for the construction of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railway The report will be found in another column Accompanying this report we received also the text of the bill, as originally introduced by Senator Hipple, and as amended by the Committee The amendment is to strike out all after the enacting clause, and insert the body of the bill as agreed on by the Committee, which is substantially as heretofore telegraphed, Its main features are it provides for the United States to guaranty the interest at five per cent. per annum for ten years on the bonds of the company to the amount of $8,000 per mile of the main line of the road, and nothing for side tracks, the bonds themselves to run twenty years, and to be payable principal and interest in New York city the road to be of the narrow gauge, three feet between rails and to be well constructed, and a telegraph line to be built along it, the freights and mails of the Government to be carried over the road without charge forever and the dispatches of the Government shall always be transmitted over the telegraph without charge The road is to be completed in sections of 25 miles, and the bonds issued accordingly except that if the portages at the Dalles and Cascades are completed first, the bonds for those sections shall be issued immediately, though the distance be less than 25 miles to the section The right to issue other other bonds under the State law is reserved to the company, but such other bonds shall be subsequent in the order of the lien they create to those secured by the Government. Congress expressly reserves the right to alter or amend the bill

These are the provisions which determine the character of the act It will be seen that to the extent of the aid offered, the provisions of the law are such as to secure the greatest good to Oregon Its passage will be hailed with joy by every true friend of our young State

POLITICAL MOVEMENTS AND COMING ELECTIONS

To the Chicago Tribune we are indebted for the following political calendar

May 20	Virginia Farmers Convention
June 1	Oregon Election
June 10	Illinois Independent Convention
June 10	Indiana Reform Convention
June 1	Illinois Republican Convention
June 17	Indiana Republican Convention
June 23	Maine Democratic Convention
June 24	Iowa Anti Monopoly Convention
July 1	Iowa Republican Convention
July 15	Indiana Democratic Convention
July 1	Ohio Democratic Convention
July 29	Alabama Conservative Convention

In Tennessee the first steps have been taken toward the formation of a new political organization to be known as the Independent Party A meeting of conference of "all who will forego party and look to the interests of the whole people," has been called

In Illinois the new departure is distinctively a farmers movement The call for a State Convention to be held June 10th emanated from the Advisory Committee of the Illinois Farmers Association in session April 5th A dispatch to the New York Times says the date fixed is significant—it is two days prior to the meeting of the Republican Convention

Concerning the Independent organization in Indiana the New York Tribune has this to say, editorially

The farmers entrance into politics in Indiana has aroused an unusual amount of enthusiasm in that State The Indianapolis Sentinel says the movement has assumed the proportions of a vast stampede and that the signs are that the Farmers Convention in June will bring about a revolution as permanent in its results in the politics of the State as it cannot but be wholesome It declares that the uprising has thus far been the result of the voluntary impulse of the people as there have been no party managers to give it shape The readiness with which the people have joined in this movement for reform in Indiana is an evidence of the disgust with which they regard the old parties with their shams and corruption and at the same time it brings home to the farmers organizations in other States the serious question whether they can afford to hold aloof from politics since they have it in their power to accomplish so much needed good

In Iowa the significant letter of Hon John A Kasson, present Congressman from the Seventh District, declining a renomination at the hands of the Republican party may be taken as a fair expression of the prevailing political sentiment In this letter Mr Kasson says

"There is nothing in the condition of public affairs at Washington to tempt me to desire a return for another period of official life here I leave my friends and constituents to select some other devoted to reform who will enter heartily into the work of abolishing abuses and restraining monopolies whether within or without his party, fearless of the attacks this course will surely bring upon him The time has come when a public office is more a burden than an honor"

These words were written by one of the oldest Republicans in Iowa, a gentleman who was Mr Blaine's most formidable competitor for Speaker of the present House Mr Kasson's majority in the Seventh District in 1872 was something over 7,000, whereas in 1873 Governor Carpenter had but 1,645 By the Des Moines papers Mr Kasson's declinature is construed as a determination on his part to cut loose from the old party and join the Independent organization which is known in Iowa as the Anti Monopoly party Iowa exchanges say that the State Convention to be held June 6th, will be one of the largest ever held in that State A special to the Chicago Times of May 8th says "the feeling grows stronger every day that the Anti Monopolists can and will carry the State in October.

In Nevada, also, the Reform party has already gained a strong foothold Indeed the supporters begin to hint at the election of an Independent Senator to succeed William Stewart, whose term expires March 3, 1875

The disaffection in Massachusetts has, to all outward appearances been accommodated by the election of Washburn But there are a few 'soreheads' so-called, who believe there is no safety in any compromise with Butlerism We do not know that any particular significance is to be attached to the formation of a Young Men's Reform Club in the city of Worcester, but it is a fact that the Club already numbers among its members a great part of the best and most active young men of the city We are also reminded of the fact that in the same city of Worcester the Republican party of to-day had its birth Nor was the beginning of the great crusade against slavery in any way more promising than the reform movement of 1874 is reputed to be These are some of the facts which they would do well to heed who now sneer at the very mention of the word reform The rising Independent party may be stigmatized as a sorehead movement but he cannot discern the signs of the times who does not apprehend the patent truth that the head of the great American people is exceeding sore.

The quantity of native wines produced in the United States is estimated in round numbers at twenty millions of gallons California the largest producer yields one fourth of this amount—five million gallons Ohio about one sixth, three and one half millions New York three millions Missouri and Illinois each two and one half millions and Pennsylvania two millions In these six States are produced all the wines of this country except ing about one million and one half of gallons raised in smaller quantities in the other States Wines are produced however in some quantity in nearly every State and Territory 20,000 gallons a year being credited to New Jersey and 5,000 gallons to Delaware The annual value of our wine crop is about $15,000,000

Mr W W Thayer is a leading Democrat—or has been and still claims to be His letter to the Bulletin which we copy into this morning's OREGONIAN furnishes very [illegible] evidence of the truth of the report of collusion between the ring and some of the Democratic managers to throw off the Democratic candidate for Congress and elect Williams the polygamy Republican With what enthusiastic joy he chants the praises of the Republican candidate and predicts his election by an overwhelming majority [illegible] Democratic politician is no champion of Did Williams Not he! Nor is there any conspiracy to sell out the Democracy to the Republican ring Not any no chance for any.

The coalition between the Holladay wing of the Republicans and the Holladay wing of the Democrats has got along so far now that the conspirators are ready to avow it This is the only meaning that can be attached to the fulsome letter of W W Thayer, one of the Democratic manipulators advocating the election of Williams the Republican candidate We wish them joy in this marriage and that neither party may have occasion hereafter to regret its consummation or be disappointed in the fruits it may bring forth

In Lincoln Nebraska the City Council has passed an ordinance prohibiting women from congregating on the sidewalks and singing and praying The penalty for violation thereof is fine or imprisonment Some of the leaders of the crusade have urged resistance ob[e]dience to the higher law etc but thus far the ordinance has not been disregarded

Mr B Oertley is one of the individuals who were recently engaged in figuring up fabulous measurements for District contractors He is a sensitive man in proof of which we [illegible] this extract from his testimony before the Investigating Committee A careful remeasurement of Government work was the basis I am somewhat irritated to [illegible] the New York Sun says yesterday I made an ass of myself

Speaking of swamp land will Mr Sol Hirsch be kind enough to state to this community whether he has any of that chicken pie and if so how much It would be extremely pleasant to hear from the ring candidate for State Senator on this subject

While the Bulletin is engaged in discussing the property qualifications of candidates for office would it not be well to state what the assessment roll of the school district shows against Mr John F Caples and whether he is not delinquent for the last two years tax

WEDNESDAY MORNING MAY 20, 1874

CITY.

ON THE DEAD.—Yesterday morning at an early hour many of our citizens noticed the fact that the flag on the engine house of Multnomah Co No 2 was drooping at half mast and many inquiries were made as to who had passed away. It was soon generally known that over the wires from the far off home of his youth, the news had come that W Irving Leonard a long time resident of this city and an old member of the company named was no more. He died at his father's residence at Owego N Y, on Sunday last at about the age of 38 years. Mr Leonard was a brother of H C Leonard Esq, of Portland and came to this State in 1855, and remained in business here for a number of years until ill health forced him to seek relief elsewhere. But he sought the boon of health in vain and for years he has been a confirmed invalid and hope of recovery was gone. The news of his death was received by many here who knew him with the deepest regret that in the prime of life he had thus been called away and his memory will be held dear to his numerous friends here who loved and respected him for years to come. He will be laid to rest in the land of his birth to-day.

HYDROPHOBIA.—On Friday of last week a dog which it is believed, was afflicted with this terrible disorder, was seen near the intersection of Seventh and Harrison streets. A little son of Judge Page was on the sidewalk and the dog rushed upon him in a furious manner and tore the rim from the child's hat. This so frightened the lad that he ran quickly away and escaped without injury. Several men employed on Page's premises saw the animal and believing from its action that it was mad, raised the cry of "mad dog," and ran in pursuit of it but failed to kill it, which they intended to do, if possible. We learn that the symptoms of rabies exhibited by the dog were decided, such as frothing at the mouth, apparent partial blindness &c. If he were actually mad, his escape was very unfortunate. The attention of the dog killer should be carefully given to the matter.

IN THE COURTS.—There were four drunks in the Police Court yesterday each being found guilty, and sent to jail for five days. In the same Court, Charles S. Levy charged with an assault upon one China Jim when called up to plead presented a receipt for $5 paid into Justice Davis Court as a bar to the prosecution. The Justice being sworn and it appearing that he had not complied with the law in entering up the judgment the receipt was declared to be no bar, and the defendant was fined $15 and costs. Walter Moffett was arraigned before Justice Ryan to answer a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Henry Stitzel, whose wife is said to have been the party assaulted. The defendant pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. The jury was drawn and summoned to attend the Court this morning, when the case will be proceeded with.

WHO IS CROSS?—The Walla Walla Statesman has the following which some Portlander may know something about: "The man Cross, who disappeared from Walla Walla about a year since under suspicious circumstances, has turned up at Portland, and is at his old tricks. A letter from Portland, making inquiries about the scamp says that he has deceived an estimable young lady by representing that he had a large farm in Walla Walla and any amount of money. Under the influence of these representations the young lady was induced to marry the old reprobate, and now finds herself badly deceived. The victimized girl is respectably connected, and her family and friends are greatly distressed at her unfortunate marriage."

NEW BUILDINGS.—About fifty men are now engaged on the new brick buildings being constructed in the north end. Ankeny's building is now under roof and in less than two months the building will be ready for occupancy. We understand all the rooms have been let. In addition to the recent improvements made by Capt Ankeny a stairway to the north side entrance to the public hall has been constructed. Reed's and Dekum's are progressing rapidly, and ere another week passes around the work on these buildings will have reached the second floor. The improvements in the vicinity of Ash and First streets have been of a most extensive character.

A NUISANCE.—We have heard many complaints expressed lately concerning the habit of men and boys bathing in the river near the North Portland sawmill. The locality is in the city limits, and in the vicinity reside quite a number of people. We do not wish to discountenance the practice of bathing, but doing so within the city limits is a violation of a city ordinance and parties persisting in taking their ablutions at the place mentioned are liable to be fined, should a "metropolitan" happen to capture any of them. We call the attention of the police to the matter.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning as the train from St Joe was approaching the Fourth street bridge one of the axles of the tender broke off, causing the tender box and baggage cars to be thrown off the track, no great injury having been done to the cars however. The engine ran into the company's depot, returning with flat cars to transport passengers, freight and baggage to the city. The disabled cars were righted and brought in for repairs. The outward bound train did not leave till 5 o clock in consequence of the accident. No one was injured.

A CAPPER.—We observed yesterday a nice specimen of humanity making attempts to entice unsuspecting countrymen into one of the numerous gambling establishments. He found the parties he tackled "up to snuff," and with an air of despondency upon his visage he turned his steps towards the direction of the place for which he was laboring. He served one term in Watkinds Hotel and he is liable to get into the same again if he is not careful.

FROM EASTERN OREGON.—Daniel Clark, Esq Master of the Patrons of Husbandry in this State, returned last Monday from a visit to Eastern Oregon, whither he went on business connected with the Order. He reports an unusual activity among the farmers in that section. By last evening's train Mr Clark left for his home, where he will remain for several weeks, and where all persons having business with him may address him.

RECEIVED HIS PENSION.—Patrick Doyle who was wounded while serving as a soldier in the Modoc war yesterday received his papers from Washington through C M Carter claim agent, insuring him his pension of eight dollars per month. He hopes soon to be sufficiently recovered from his wounds to re-enlist.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.—The first cherries of the season have been placed on our table. They came from the garden attached to the residence of the late Major Francis. The supply is limited of course at present but it will not be a great while till the market will be filled with an abundance of this delicious fruit.

HORSE TRAINING.—Mr R H Tall invites owners of vicious horses to bring their animals before him and he will show the public that he can manage the most vicious horses in a few minutes. He is located at the Clarendon Hotel where he can be addressed.

BUSINESS CONNECTION.—The [illegible] mill of Estes & Stim on was thoroughly overhauled by Seymour & Douglass and they are now engaged in sorting and packing wool. The upper floor is used for sorting, and the lower floor for packing.

BOAT CHARTERED.—The Oregon City Turn Verein have chartered a boat to take members and others desiring to attend the May festival of the Portland Turn Verein next Sunday.

CRUSADERS.—Last evening the crusaders were out again making war against the saloons. Nothing occurred to warrant a lengthy mention of the movements of the praying band.

FOR SHIPMENT.—On the steamship company's wharf is a large quantity of flour awaiting shipment. Besides this are lots of barley, hoop poles dried apples etc.

No Physician who has watched the effect of HALL'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR, in chronic colds, coughs or influenza will hesitate to say that it is the finest pulmonic yet discovered.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute.

PICNICS.

A more bright and beautiful day for a picnic could not be desired than yesterday. It was the day on which the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society was to give their annual picnic. The day was not as warm as Monday, the sky being overcast with clouds which rendered the temperature more agreeable and rendered everything more pleasant than if the sun had shown out clear and strong. At 8 o clock the members of the Society formed at their hall and headed by the East Portland Brass Band marched down to the foot of Alder street where the steamer Willamette Chief was lying. Long before the hour designated for the steamer to leave the capacious cabin was crowded with men women and children clad in gay picnic attire and loaded down with lunch baskets. There was on board at least 800 persons when the boat pushed off. With pennants gaily streaming, and the band discoursing their liveliest strains the steamer swung out into the river and moved off majestically down the stream. Several miles below the city the steamer Vancouver was met when both boats halted and a number of persons were transferred to the Chief. The latter steamer then continued on and arrived at the picnic grounds about 11 o clock. As soon as the crowds arrived at the grounds the platform was cleared away and dancing commenced. About 12 o clock every one dispersed to the neighboring woods to discuss lunch of which there was a profusion. After that came dancing and later in the afternoon a number of interesting field sports which afforded a great deal of amusement and helped to while the time away. At 6 o clock all were on board and soon were gliding up the broad Willamette. The large barge which was attached to the steamer afforded a splendid opportunity for dancing both in coming and going, which the devotees of that art were not slow to embrace. The crowded state of our columns will not permit an extended notice but we can say in all truth that thus far it was the picnic of the season. There was a very large attendance no disreputable characters were allowed, there was good music and splendid management throughout was displayed. All who attended were well pleased with the trip, and speak in the highest terms of the Society under whose auspices the picnic was given. Not an accident of any kind occurred during the day nor any unpleasant event transpired to mar the pleasure of any one. It can be set down as another achievement which can be added to the long list of successes that have crowned this old and highly respected organization. The affair was managed in the best possible manner and there is not a member but what has reason to feel proud of the result. It was in every way creditable and the receipts were very substantial. The Chief arrived at her wharf about 8 o clock with all on board safe and sound, wearied with the day's exertion and excitement, but highly delighted with its pleasures.

To-morrow we will give our readers an account of the field sports, those who won the prizes, etc. As yet the committees have not made out an official list.

THE CASSIAR MINES.

Late numbers of the Victoria Colonist contain the following items from Stickine or Cassiar:

One of the most pleasing facts connected with the return of the Isabel is the reception by by Mrs Moore of 48 ozs of Dease creek gold sent down by her two sons who were thawing the ground and washing with rockers.

Mr Sylvester, with Barnard's Express, left Dease creek on the 22d April. There are about 700 men in the mines altogether and as many more were met on the road. The snow on Dease creek was 18 inches deep. Thirty miles west of the creek the snow was nearly gone.

On April 27th the ice was over two feet thick on Dease Lake.

Moore & Co's claim took 10½ ozs out of 250 buckets of dirt, after thawing the dirt. All the claims that are working are doing well.

The liquor business seems to be the only paying business on the river. Brandy is selling between Dease creek and Wrangell at $4 and $5 per bottle.

One old Siwash has started a saloon in his tent and is selling to his tillicums and some white men at fifty cents per drink. He expects to have a billiard table up by the next trip of the Otter.

"Dancing Bill," from Wrangell, has gone up the river with an organ and four clootchmen to open a dance house and keep the boys in amusement previous to the snow melting.

A letter from Dease creek dated April 28th, says: "My opinion of the mines here is that they are rather rather limited. So far there has been nothing found outside of what was found last fall. On Thibert creek there has been nothing found of any account, except what was taken up last year. Dease creek I think will turn out pretty well for about six miles. I have got ground on Dease creek, which I think will pay. We have started rocking, it pays very well. When the ice leaves the creek and we can get in sluices, I think we can make from $50 to $100 a day to the hand."

Another letter from the same place and same date says: "A few hundred miners are here and many are leaving for below daily selling their provisions etc. Flour is 50 cents per pound sugar and bacon $1 25. I don't think much of Dease creek at present. There are a few good claims but they are hard to work. There are a few good claims on Thibert creek. I am prospecting on Dolore creek which empties into Thibert creek. There is deep sinking and plenty of water. The ground is frozen hard and there is good traveling on the lake. A great deal of prospecting is being done in the neighborhood. It freezes hard every night and it will be a long time before the river and lake are open."

When the Isabel left Wrangell the steamer Glenora was aground on a bar forty miles up the Stikine river. She had a large freight one of Moore's barges in tow and five or six head of cattle. She cast off the barge and landed the cattle and was taking out some cargo. The current was very strong, and it was doubted if she could get up.

There is not the slightest sign of vegetation, not a bud to be seen, but everything is covered with snow which varies from Wrangell up from one to five feet in depth. The river is rising rapidly, two feet every twenty four hours, and running at the rate of six knots.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Council meets this evening.

We are in receipt of invitation cards to the Turn Verein May Festival.

Up to 12 o'clock last evening the ocean steamer had not been telegraphed.

The bark C[illegible] is undergoing an overhauling that is she is being cleaned up repainted and recaulked.

The schooner [illegible] arrived at San Francisco from [illegible]port, W T on the 14th inst with a cargo of lumber.

The train bound west on the Oregon Central Railroad last evening, carried considerable merchandise for the merchants along the road.

The Union Temperance meetings at the [illegible] Street M E [illegible] will be resumed this evening at half-past 7 o clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

A gang of men are engaged in laying plank just north of the railroad company's [illegible] which will make the passage of wagons [illegible] than it has heretofore.

[illegible] are making arrangements to procure new uniforms. The members have [illegible] silver trumpet [illegible] will hereafter [illegible].

SPRING STYLES.—A thorough inspection of the latest spring styles in Clothing and Furnishing Goods by Mr J D Schart of J O'NEIL & CO while in San Francisco has resulted in the selection of everything new and that firm have just completed opening the new stock. Their customers and the public generally are invited to call and examine the new arrivals. Mr Schart selects expressly to suit Portland trade and the new goods will be sure to please the most fastidious. Call.

The public mind is occupied over the late defalcation about the P D & S L R R and where to procure that needful article—Clothing. There should be no worrying over this matter while it is known that BECK & WALDMAN are offering a large stock of spring styles which they propose to sell at once to make room for new goods. They can accommodate all. Boys Clothing a specialty.

FREE READING ROOM

At a special meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city held Monday evening May 18th it was resolved that active measures be active at once for the establishment of a free reading room in this city and that the following statement and appeal be made to the public. A committee of six members of the Association was appointed to solicit subscriptions for the cause and will visit the citizens at their places of business and their homes for the purpose of receiving contributions that may be made toward accomplishing the object had in view.

In behalf of many interested we respectfully ask your co-operation in a plan [illegible] matured for the establishment of a People's Social Union and News Room—a place where evenings may be spent in amusement where refreshments may be furnished where men may meet after the work of the day where periodicals and papers may be kept on file and where the leisure time of a portion of our community may be pleasantly spent. As far as [illegible] at present this plan contemplates the following features of management and action:

1 To accept an offer from H W Corbett Esq of a five years' free use of the second story of a building in course of construction adjoining the Postoffice.

2 To fit up a large reading room well furnished and lighted supplied with all the leading periodicals of the country which may also be used for social purposes debates literary exercises etc.

3 Also to furnish a room where games and amusements shall be provided.

4 To open these several rooms to the public from 7 A M to 10 P M for their free use.

5 To provide refreshments (intoxicating drinks of every kind excepted) at moderate cost.

The management of the enterprise is expected to be in the hands of nine Trustees three to be elected each year.

When the sum of eighteen hundred dollars shall have been subscribed a meeting shall be called of all who have subscribed twenty dollars or upwards (payable in quarterly installments), for the purpose of electing Trustees.

The Young Men's Christian Association of this city have, as has been stated in the news papers begun this work and will directly labor for its success but this enterprise is expressly understood to be distinct and separate in its workings from the Association.

It is understood that when the Trustees are chosen two thirds of them shall be selected from the list of members of the Association the selection to be made as indicated above by the whole body of those subscribing twenty dollars or over. The Board of Trustees will draft By laws and transact the business of the Union.

These rooms if we succeed in establishing them will supply a want long felt, they will furnish strangers visiting the city and a large resident class with something to fill out leisure hours in a social way.

To business men to members of societies to all who have at heart the welfare of the community we feel that we are presenting an unusual opportunity and privilege of doing a practical good. We look for a general and wide spread interest in our enterprise.

For our purpose, no subscription will seem too large or too small if it is an expression of good will and the best you can do.

I We the undersigned citizens and workingmen of Portland Oregon, do hereby mutually associate ourselves together, each with the other as a Protective League for the purpose of guarding our rights as citizens of this Republic and the better to shield ourselves from the encroachments which a few colored political demogogues are advocating upon the liberties and privileges granted us by the Constitution.

II And as members of such League, we bind ourselves by these our signatures hereto appended, to abide the will of the majority of such League, in all that pertains to the objects sought after, and do mutually pledge ourselves to use all honest and legal means to secure the fullest recognition of our political and social rights.

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

The Blood is the Life. When this source is corrupted the painful and sorrow producing effects are visible in many shapes. The multifarious forms in which it manifests itself would form subjects upon which I might write volumes. But as all the varied forms of disease which depend upon bad blood are cured or best treated by such medicines as take up from this fluid and excrete from the system the noxious elements it is not of practical importance that I should describe each. For instance, medical authors describe about fifty varieties of skin disease but as they all require for their cure very similar treatment it is of no practical utility to know just what name to apply to a certain form of skin disease so you know how best to cure it. Then again I might go on and describe various kinds of scrofulous sores fever sores white swellings, enlarged glands, and ulcers of vary appearance might describe how virulent poison may show itself in various forms of eruptions ulcers sore throat bony tumors etc but as all these various appearing manifestations of bad blood are cured by a uniform means I deem such a course unnecessary. Thoroughly cleanse the blood which is the great fountain of life and good digestion a fair skin buoyant spirits vital strength and soundness of constitution will all return to us. For this purpose Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Purgative Pellets are pre eminently the article needed. They are warranted to cure Tetter Salt Rheum Scald Head St Anthony's Fire Rose Rash or Erysipelas Ring Worms Pimples Blotches Spots Eruptions, Pustules Boils Carbuncles Sore Eyes Rough Skin Scurf Scrofulous Sores and Swellings Fever Sores White Swellings Tumors Old Sores or swellings, Affections of the Skin Throat and Bones and Ulcers of the Liver Stomach [illegible]

WEDNESDAY MORNING MAY 20, 1874

THE PORTLAND DALLES AND SALT LAKE RAILWAY

On the [illegible] instant Senator Kelly submitted the following Report

The United States are now paying $224 000 per annum for carrying a daily United States mail in four horse coaches each way between Kelton, in Salt Lake Valley and The Dalles in Oregon, a distance of about six hundred miles and $18 000 for carrying it by steamboat (and over a short portage by railroad) [illegible] times a week each way between The Dalles and Portland a distance of about one hundred miles thus making the sum of $242 000 which the Government is annually paying simply for the transportation of the mails between Kelton and Portland. The schedule time for performing this duty between those points is seven days in summer and nine in the winter. If therefore, by changing an appropriation of money for the performance of an inferior and inefficient service to a vastly superior one without greatly increasing the cost to the Government, the closest stickler for retrenchment and reform could but regard the measure as a wise one. That is the object sought to be accomplished by the bill reported by the committee, and if by its passage it can be shown that even in the period of twenty years the Government will save from one to four million dollars it may with reason be expected that the most rigid economist will yield his hearty support. And when in addition to this economical expenditure of the public money, and wise arrangement of the public service it is made to appear that a series of benefits will be conferred, not only upon the people of that vast extent of country through which the road passes, but upon the whole Union, there ought to be no hesitation in adopting the measure proposed

These are the general features of the bill. Whenever the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall complete a section of its road, of twenty five miles in length the United States will guarantee and pay interest at the rate of 5 per centum per annum for ten years on $8,000 of the construction bonds of the company, for every mile of completed road not, however exceeding in the whole seven hundred miles, between Ogden or Kelton and Portland, whatever the actual distance between those points may be. In consideration of their payment of interest, the railroad company obligates itself its successors and assigns to carry the United States mails Army and Indian supplies, troops, and munitions of war of every kind and transmit all telegraph messages for the Government free of charge for ever.

Whenever the entire line of railway shall be completed, then the interest required to be paid by the United States will be the sum of $230 000 annually for ten years. On the other side, the Government will save the cost of carrying the mails which as before stated amounts to $242 000 per annum. Army supplies which during the year 1873 amounted to $26 629 49, and which doubtless will be greatly increased upon the completion of the road; telegraphic and signal services from Salt Lake to Portland which amounted during the year 1873 to $1,085. Beside all this the Government could well dispense with mail-service on the route from Winnemucca to Boise City now necessary for the transportation of the mails between San Francisco and Boise Valley and which at the present time costs the Government $72 000 per annum

Arranged in tabular form the account stands thus

Mail service from Kelton to Portland	$242,000 00
Transportation of military supplies	26 629 49
Telegraphic and signal service	1 085 00
Winnemucca mail service dispensed with	72 000 00
Total for services	341,714 49
Annual interest to be paid by U S	280 000 00
Annual saving to Government	61 714 49

Thus for services performed during the past year the Government has actually paid $61,714 49 more than it would be required to pay for interest as proposed in the bill which the committee has reported, a saving, in ten years, of $617,144 90 over and above the whole amount of money which the United States would pay to the company for constructing the road

On the basis of compensation allowed by act of Congress for carrying the mails on railroads, at the rate of $200 per mile, the company, after the completion of its road, would be entitled to $140 000 per annum for transporting the mails from Salt Lake Valley to Portland. Add to this for the annual transportation of military supplies, &c., the same as paid last year, and the account would stand thus for a period of twenty years

Carrying mails on 700 miles of railroad	$140,000 00
Transportation of military supplies	26,629 49
Telegraphic and signal service	1 085 00
Winnemucca mail-service omitted	72 000 00
Annual amount for services	239 714 49
Amount for twenty years	4 794 289 80
Deduct interest paid by United States	2,500 000 00
Saving to Government in twenty years	1 904 289 80

The foregoing statements it will be observed do not take into account the cost of transporting Indian supplies and annuity goods, for the reason that no reliable data have been obtained on which to base an estimate. And yet it must be manifest to every one at all acquainted with the nature of this service that the amount it would be no inconsiderable item in a country dotted over as that is with Indian reservations

Every precaution has been taken by the committee to guard the rights and interest of the United States and secure the performance of the services to be rendered by the railroad company for the Government. The bill provides that the Secretary of the Treasury shall not guarantee the payment of interest on the bonds of the company until the road shall be completed in sections of 25 miles, nor even then until it shall be made to appear to him that there are no liens of any kind having priority to that of the United States to have those services performed. The road is declared to be a military and post road for governmental purposes and the right to have the mails military and Indian supplies, and troops transported over it made to inhere in and become a part of the corporate existence of the company and be a lien upon the road and its equipments of every kind, whether the same be in the possession and control of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company or of its successors or assigns. In addition to all this a section of the bill makes it a penal offense for any officer agent or employee of the railroad company its successor or assigns to willfully refuse to transport the mails or supplies specified in the bill after the United States are entitled to have the services performed. In short, every precaution has been taken to prevent the Government against loss, and to secure its rights in perpetuity

What has heretofore been said relates to the interest which the United States have in the construction of the road in their governmental capacity. That, however is but an insignificant matter compared with the benefits which would result to the people at large from its completion and especially to the people of that widely extended region through which the road will go—the valleys drained by the Columbia river and its tributaries the great northwestern portion of the Republic. The State of Oregon and the Territories of Washington and Idaho embrace an area of 260 000 square miles, and are greater in territorial extent than all the New England States New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania Delaware Maryland Ohio and Indiana combined. And yet this vast region is wholly disconnected by railroad communication with the other States and Territories of the Union and almost inaccessible to the emigrant who may desire to make it his home, indeed it can only be reached by the long and circuitous sea voyage from San Francisco to Portland 800 miles out of the way, or by the tiresome stage coach ride of 300 miles from the present terminus of the California and Oregon Railroad, ~~and over~~ a lofty mountain range or by the still more wearisome way, by wagons or stage coach from the valley of Salt Lake

This explains the reason why the State of Oregon and the Territories of Washington and Idaho with such boundless resources of national wealth and of such ample territorial domain, are yet so sparsely populated that all combined had not at the time of the last census a sufficient number of inhabitants for a single congressional district under the present apportionment for members of Congress, although settlements were commenced there as early as 1843

There seems to be at the present time an earnest spirit of inquiry abroad among the people of the United States and especially those living in the valley of the Mississippi how to obtain cheaper modes of transportation to the great centers of trade, and particularly on the outlets to the sea. Railroad charges for the transportation of freight on the leading routes, although not averaging more than $2 per ton for every one hundred miles, are yet considered excessive and exorbitant. Perhaps this is so, but how insignificant the cost appears to be when compared with that which the people living along the line of the proposed railway are compelled to bear. The charges made for carrying freight from different points to Boise City may be taken for example to illustrate how great is the difference in the cost to the people living here and those living there. This place is selected because it is the capital of Idaho and the radiating point for the trade and transportation of that Territory and because it is on the line of the completed railroad and nearly midway between Salt Lake and the navigable waters of the Columbia river. From Kelton to Boise City 2[illegible]0 miles, charges for freight per ton $100; passenger fare on stage $[illegible]. Winnemucca to Boise City 280 miles, charges for freight per ton $120; passenger fare on stage $[illegible]. Umatilla river to Boise City 275 miles, charges for freight per ton $110; passenger fare on stage $44

From Portland to Umatilla the point of departure on the Columbia river for Boise City the distance is about 240 miles and the cost of transporting freight by steamboat and railway around the portages of the Cascades and Dalles to that place is $20 per ton, making the total amount from Portland to Boise City $130 per ton. The prices specified above are all paid in gold coin. When it is known that the transportation of goods and merchandise on the above mentioned routes, excepting on the Columbia river, is made in wagons drawn sometimes by horses or mules but more frequently by oxen traveling on an average about ten miles a day, some conception may be had of the wearisome delays as well as the burdensome charges which the people of the Pacific northwest are compelled to endure. Having suffered for years all these vexations and exactions is it a matter of any special wonder that the Legislatures of Oregon, Washington and Idaho have memorialized Congress to give some relief by aiding in the construction of the road? All political parties there have passed resolutions in favor of the project; and the petitions on file from the people presented to Congress, and referred to the committee attest how earnest they have become in this matter and how hopeful they are that Congress will give them relief

This road once completed it would from that time become the leading, indeed the only, traveled route from the East to the great Northwest, a country richly endowed with natural resources of wealth of almost every kind agricultural commercial and mineral but the greater portion of which is now only a magnificent unpeopled waste. Once completed, it would be to Oregon what the Central Pacific is to California, the great artery of commerce, conveying health and vigor into every channel of trade and awakening into activity every dormant industry in the land. The enhanced value it would give to the unoccupied public lands would, of itself, more than compensate the United States for any outlay, if such it may be called which is asked for in the bill reported to the Senate. And there is its great mineral wealth, mines of silver and of gold almost countless in number and of exhaustless value in Idaho and Eastern Oregon now lying neglected and unwrought because it is impossible except at a ruinous cost to transport thither the expensive machinery required for their development and the supplies necessary for the subsistence of the miners. Were the road constructed, this industry would at once revive throughout Idaho and develop mines already discovered as rich perhaps as any in Nevada and certainly greater in number.

It would prolong this report already extended further than was contemplated to advert to all the benefits which would result from the construction of the road but reference to one matter ought not to be omitted. It is the duty which the Government owes to the early pioneers who thirty years ago passed over an almost trackless way from the Missouri river to the sea braving alike the dangers from hostile Indians and the weariness of a six months journey across the plains. They are the men who occupied the Oregon Territory in behalf of the United States when occupancy was necessary to maintain our right to it against the claims and aggressions of Great Britain, before the treaty of June 15, 1846. They and those who followed in their footsteps are the men who carried our laws and institutions there and laid the foundations of great commonwealths on the Pacific coast and to them surely something is due from the Government, in order to facilitate their intercourse with other portions of the Union

There is no important transactions in our local money market the general feeling being one of a very good degree of ease as to the supply while it is claimed that money is plenty because those who have undoubted credit see no way to employ it profitably and capitalists are not disposed to lend it to others upon the current rates. The banks are in funds as a rule and accommodations are obtained on moderate terms by regular customers or those who offer first class collateral. We learn of a transaction now being arranged by which one of the largest manufacturing establishments in the State is to secure the use of $100 000 through one of our city banks on mortgage but have not permission at present to give particulars. The fact however and the terms which have been named go to show a liberal amount of loanable funds in the market

Savings Banks.

The annual report of the New York savings banks prepared by the Superintendent of Banking for the State Legislature has just been published. This document offers suggestive proof of the comfort frugality and relative prosperity of the operative classes who are the chief though by no means the only depositors in savings banks. Since 1867 the deposits in the savings institutions of that State have risen from forty one millions to two hundred and eighty five millions. This gratifying increase may be taken as an illustration that in this country at any rate the operative classes from whose earnings by far the greatest part of these deposits are made up enjoy more opportunities for saving as the wealth and productive forces of the country increase

British Trade

The British Board of Trade returns for the first quarter of the year show a still further decline in exports while the prices paid for imported articles have considerably advanced. From the important failures which have taken place in the iron trade it would seem that a collapse is imminent. The most significant fact in the returns is the great discrepancy in the balance of trade. The balance of imports over exports for the quarter was £[illegible] 000 000 in 187[illegible], £22 000 000 in 1873, and it is as much as £[illegible] 000 000 in the current year during which period we have imported a less amount of the precious metals by ten millions of dollars than in either of the two previous years

Home Produce Market

No special activity in this department is noted or important changes occurring. The principal wheat now received comes down the Columbia river. The quotations for shipping are $1 [illegible] cental and for milling 5@10 cents higher. Oats are dull at [illegible] 52 cents ₩ bushel. Eggs quiet at 11 cents ₩ doz; butter very plenty and much lower; quotations for choice roll cannot be obtained above 18 [illegible] cents while common ranges from 1[illegible] [illegible] the market for the past few days being overstocked. Apples of the old crop are about out and such as offer are of inferior quality. Potatoes are in dull demand but not in excessive supply; onions firm at [illegible] cents ₩ lb sacked

There is some attention now directed to the wool the spring clip of which will soon be in the market. Buyers will not be very scarce and growers will get all the markets of demand will justify. There is a determination on the part of shippers to make such distinction between clean assorted well packed lots and such as consist of dirty briny promiscuous fleeces thrown together that it will pay growers to be careful as to the shapes in which they put their staple in the market. We hear mention the fact that parties in this city who are prepared to clean and [illegible] wool offer to do it for five-eighths of one cent ₩ lb and it is believed that enough can be saved to the grower and shipper to fully justify them in putting much of the wool coming to this market through the cleaning and packing process. High quotations are as to prices are not definite but present rates for best quality are nominally 2[illegible]@2[illegible] cents per pound
